2026 Parish Events Calendar

This year marks 150 years since the building of St Johns began. Please keep these dates free to help us commemorate our humble beginnings—February 21 & 27, March 1. More details soon.

The new calendar can now be viewed on the noticeboard at the back of our churches, three months at a time. You also view the full calendar on the parish website at www.olsc.org.au. Please try to keep important dates free if you can to allow you, your family and friends to participate in Parish life.

Follow me and I will make you fishers of all people

This Sunday's readings remind us that Jesus calls everyone to follow Him and share in His mission. In the first reading, from the Book of Isaiah, we hear about a time of darkness, but also about hope.

The second reading, from 1 Corinthians, shows us that Jesus wants us to be united and be in union with each other. Saint Paul encourages the people in Corinth to stop arguing and to work together in peace. He reminds us that Jesus did not send us to baptize in His name just for show, but to spread His message of love and kindness. Our faith should bring us together, not pull us apart.

The Gospel reading from Matthew tells us how Jesus began His public work. He saw two brothers, Simon Peter and Andrew, fishing by the Sea of Galilee. Jesus called them to follow Him and become "fishers of people." Without hesitation, they left their nets and followed Jesus. Later, He called James and John, who also left everything to follow Him. These stories teach us that Jesus calls each of us to follow Him too.

Sometimes, we might feel unsure or afraid, but Jesus's call is always full of hope and new beginnings. The main message from all these readings is that Jesus invites everyone to follow Him and be part of His mission. No matter who we are or where we come from, Jesus calls us to leave behind our worries and focus on love, kindness, and helping others.

The whole Gospel tradition, as we have received it within the community of our Church, seeks to point us towards the Kingdom of God by helping us understand just what living life as God intends that it be lived actually means. The community of faith, our community of faith, notwithstanding its fragility, its sometimes scandalous lack of fidelity, its timidity in the face of opposition, and its very human limitations, remains, perhaps to our surprise, God's chosen instrument for keeping the memory, and the presence, and the challenge and the invitation of Jesus alive in our world.

As we reflect on these readings, let us remember that the call of Jesus is for each of us. He wants us to follow Him and help spread the gospel message of love and peace. When we listen to His call and follow Him, we become part of something much bigger than ourselves. We become His friends and messengers of hope to everyone around us.

Let us unite with Christ in every possible ways we can so that we can be in communion with Him, who gives life and love, blessings and mercy to each one of us. May we become good shepherds among those who are in need. The Lord called us to share the same love He shared with us, to others, so that they can have it also, and have it to the full.
